The Democracy Rejoice Over their Vic tery-Speeches by Governor Elect Williams, Governor Hendricks, and Others.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 17. - Tae

INDIANAPOLIS, October 17.—Independent of cannon, grand torchlight with a sainte of cannon, grand torchlight procession, fon fires and a fine display of fire works. Mr. Williams, the governor seed, who arrived this alternoon, was escorted from file hotel to-night to the Statehouse square by the Williams Guards and other quare by the Williams Guards and other impanies bearing torch v, where speeches ere made by Mr. Williams, Governor Henricks, and others. were made by Mr. Williams, Governor Hendricks, and others.

Mr. Williams, in the course of his speech, referred to the influence of the lafe victory in Indians upon the national contest now pending by both parties and by the people of other States. The result in Indians would have great influence upon the Presidential elsection, and as the national result involves, as I believe, considerations of purity of government, economy in expanditures, and the fraternal relations between the great sections, I am greatly rejuiced that the State which has been my home from youth up has thrown her great influence upon the side which, I believe, will premote the honor of our country, and the prosperity and happiness of the people.

THE VICTORY OF REFORM.

The National Democratic Committee Congratulates the People of the Union upon the Recent Victories.

An Urgent Appeal for Unity and Continued Work by the Democracy of all the States until the Day of Election.

NEW YORK, October 13 .- The following address on the recent Democratic victories was issued to-day:

To the People of the United States: FELLOW-CITIZENS-We congratulate you, as Fillow-Citizens—We congratulate you, as patricts and partakers with us in the common destiny of American freemen, upon the results of the October State elections. We rejoice in the victory which the people's ballots have bestowed upon the friends of reform in the valley of Ohio, where the Republican hosts have had overwhelming ascendency in every Presidential election since 1856. We rejoice in the assurances these elections convey that your ballots will bestow decisive majorities to the allied forces of Demociacy and reform in the November elections throughout the Union; but we rejoice not as partisses. We rejoice with you as fellow-citizens, and when the decision of this week of one million voters along the valley of the Ohio shall be ratified next month by the flat of eight million voters throughout the whole republic, we shall still rejoice, chiefly for the reason that not one of its citizens can miss an equal share with us, who are Democrats, in the political peace and good will which will then ititeal peace and good will while then and there be established among all sections, races, classes, and conditions of men, and in races, classes, and conditions of men, and in the prosperity of which positical peace, based on equal rights and fraternal good will, is the first condition. Upon the three States of West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana were concentrated all the influence of the administration, all their efforts, and all the vast sums of money forces from one hundred thousand office-holders of the party in power. These were fearful odds, not again to be contended against so concentrated, for in the November election the contest will be in every one of the thirty-eight states upon the same day.

Nevertheless, against these odds the Demo-Nevertheless, against these odds the Demo-erats and reformers of West Virginia and In-

Nevertheless, against these odds the Democrats and reformers of West Virginia and Indiana have been victorious, and in Ohio they have all but rescued a State hitherto deemed hopeless, and have created an assurance of victory in November. If it falls to our lot, as the national Democratic committee, to congratulate the people of the Union upon this victory in the first battle of the reform campaign, it is only because the Democrats have been honored to be the leaders of the people in the work of national regeneration. The victory won and the victory still to be won will be deliverance as much to the Republicans as to the Democrats. The patriotic masses of the Republican party may be thankful that the misdeeds of their unworthy leaders have been rebuked and arrested. The suffering whites of the south may lift their heads to greet the dawn of a better day for them as well as the nation at large. The colored citizen may share the general joy that he will soon cease to be the stock in trade of corrupt politicians, but shall enjoy his rightful liberties and his equality before the law amid universal good will. As for the Reform Democracy, to whose standards victory has been tied with all her garlands on, it only remains for them to welcome every ally, every friend, close up the ranks and press on shoulder to shoulder under the banner and with the one watchword—reform.

Fellow-citizens, peace between all sections, reform.

Fellow-citizens, peace between all sections, prosperity in all our homes—of these you have been for years deprived by the mistaken solicitude of patriolic Republicans, played upon by selfish and corrupt leaders, who have kept warm the dying embers of civil strife in order to escape the inspection of the truss which they have betrayed. For eleven years you have had the name of peace, but at no time have you had the substance of peace. In lieu thereof you have had the grinding taxation and the wasteful expenditure of war. Just before every election every year taxation and the wasteful expenditure of war. Just before every election every year you have had the preaching of a new crusade against a section utterly defeated in war and anxious only to be completely reconciled in peace. For eleven years the power of the men who have seized away the control of their party from the hands of its statesmen and founders, has been supreme in atmost every department of the Federal government. Discarding the hopes of prolonging their domination by the beneficent rubble measures, they have created and trafficked opened in a fine speech of torty-five minutes, in which he set forth in a clear and forcible manner the conduct of the Republican administration of our government for the last eleven years, showing the enormous amount of our national debt; how it had been created, and that it amounted to about one-third of the entre annual productions of our whole country. He showed the large amounts that had been lost to the government by the whicky rings, and other frands, unter the very name of the Republican party during their administration; spoke of the humiliating direumstance of our government being unable to make the proper demands of Spain and protect the national houter in the Virginius affair, because, through the fraud of the secretary of the navy, who had squandered a large sum of money in fraudulent contracts, by which he and his confederates were enriched at the expense of the treasury and honor of the country. He said that two years ago he was opposed by a Republican of long-standing and consistent record, who was recognized as the leader of his party in this district; a man who led a compact and powerful political organization, and bore a flag having emblazoned upon it the principles of his party; but that bold isader had been driven from the field and deposed from command by a rupture amone, his followers, instigated by the man who had usurped his place and honors; that he was new confronted by an opponent until recently unknown to the Republican party, and who had once been an ardent advocate of Democratic principles. it regards an armistice as a disadva tage to Servia.

A telegram from Bucharest announces that a canon has been concluded between the Aoumanian and Russian raliway companies, by which the former undertake to hold in readiness, at the disposal of Russia, sufficient trains to transport four thousand troops daily.

There has been a panic on the stock exchange in some of the foreign bonds this afternoon, principally in Russian, which have been largely offered at a decline of 2% to per cent. Hungarian were also very heavy, and declined 2 per cent. Turkish declined % to 1 per cent.; Egyptian, Portuguese, Uruguayan and Austrian, % 10 % per cent.; Peruvian, % to 1½ per cent., and French, ½ per cent.

A dispatch from Vienna says: "It is believed in well-informed direles here that an alliance between Austria and Russia is on the point of being concluded, according to which Russia, in the event of Turkey refusing a short armistice, would enter upon military intervention, while Austria would remain neutral. Russia would not permanently occupy the Turkish provinces, but should events lead to the overthrow of the Ottoman government, Russia would yield to Austria on the grounds of commercial or general interest."

The Times, in a leading article, points out through with rounds of application to the secretary of the sections, he ought to estimate the result. He desired to know the sections, he ought to be tween the sections, he ought to unit a feeling of friendship between the sections, he ought to be tween the sections, he ought to be ing about that result. The Porte's Proposal of a Six Months here believes that we are on the eve of a great eastern war. The only difference or opinion

Strange rumors are current concerning the Strange fathors of Austria. On Sunday semi-ometric intelligence reached Belgrade that the emperor of Austria had informed the czar that sents official Russia assembled in view of the Bosphorus and the seat of war."

A St. Petersburg letter to the Times, dated October 11th, says: Doubtless the general impression here is that Russia is on the eve of a long wished-for struggle with Turkey.

A special from Vienna states that the English and French governments have decidedly pronounced for the acceptance of a six months armistice. Austria is inclined to do likewise, and has asked Germany's opinion, which, however, has not yet been even itself, however, has not yet been even definite reply, says that it does not want in any way to auticipate Servia's doe stop, as it resards an armistice as a disadva lage to Servia.

A telegram from Bucharest announces that

A Beriin telegram states that the Russian telegraphic dispatch rejecting the Porte's proposal is dated October 14th, and is as follows: "We regard a six months armistice as innecessary and unfavorable to the concludion of a durable peace, which we desire. We are not in a position to exercise upon servia and Montenegro a pressure to obtain their consent to such a prolongation in their uncertain and difficult position. We consider that the financial and commercial condition of Europe, which is already unbearable, would suffer still more by such a postponement. We must insist on an armistice of four or six weeks, with a provision that it be urther prolonged should the progress of negotiations reader it necessary." A correspondent at St. Petersburg telegraph that it is under tood that Russia in reversing to England's original proposal demands that guarantees should be afforded for the execution of reforms in Turkey by means of an international act. The Porte treviously refused to reject any armistice.

New York Bulletin. The silver market is likely to be ex-ment. Discarding the hopes of prolonging their domination by the beneficent rublic measures, they have created and trafficked upon public calamities. The policy they adopted has been worked out. Its failure has been absolute, In place of past performances these same corrupt and selfish leaders now proffer promises already broken as their titles to further trust. Having prostrated our manifold industries by vast aggregates and worst methods of Federal taxation, they now sgain solicit your confidence as instruments of retrenchment and reform. Having debanched the public service, and having just now in the face of open day assessed their army of one hundred thousand office-holders—the people's servants, paid by the people's taxes in order to create immense corruption funds to frustrate the people's will, they now profess to be champions of civil service reform. Having imposed upon the southern States the rapacity, fraud and plunder of carpetbag government; having almost ruined the prosperity of the south, and having created terror, uncertainty and confusion in all the productive industries of the south which furnish most of the exports of our whole country, keep in motion the commerce and manufactories of the north and east, and furnish a market for the agricultural products of the west, they now propose a renewal of the same fatal policy to protong their own misdeeds, and for this purpose they do
